

Interest

Directions: At points indicated throughout the information problem-solving process, place a mark on the scale below to indicate your feelings at that particular time.

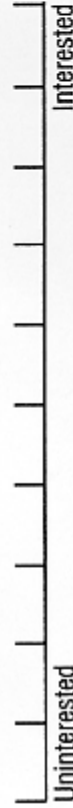

Beginning

Immediately after you have received the problem:

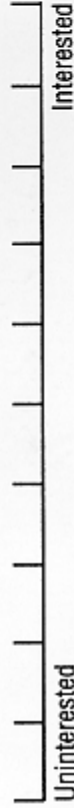

Task Definition

After defining the task:

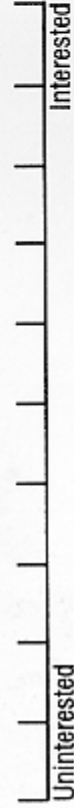

Information Seeking Strategies

After determining and prioritizing possible information sources:

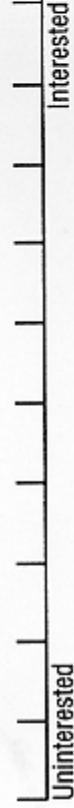

Location & Access

After locating sources and finding information:

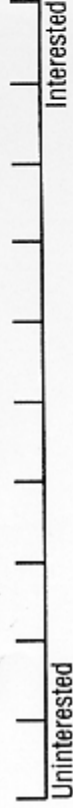

Information Use

After using the information:

Synthesis

After organizing and presenting the information:

Evaluation

After evaluating the product and the process:

Confidence

Directions: At points indicated throughout the information problem-solving process, place a mark on the scale below to indicate your feelings at that particular time.

Beginning

Immediately after you have received the problem:

Task Definition

After defining the task:

Information Seeking Strategies

After determining and prioritizing possible information sources:

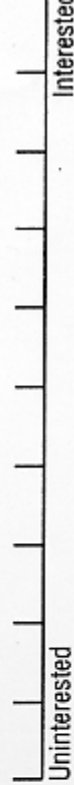

Location & Access

After locating sources and finding information:

Information Use

After using the information:

Synthesis

After organizing and presenting the information:

Evaluation

After evaluating the product and the process:

